

Sales and Marketing Manager --- Ashbourne Meat Processors ---- 26th July 2022

Ashbourne Meat Processors is one of Irelands leading beef processors, exporting premium chilled Irish beef all over Europe and indeed the world since 1985 from cattle sourced locally at our abattoir in Roscrea, Co. Tipperary. The company was established by Jim McMahon and Danny Houlihan in 1985, both of whom worked in Irish Meat Processors as Sales Manager and Factory Manager respectively. The company still remains today managed and controlled by the Houlihan and McMahon family. Our commitment over the last three decades has seen our business continue to expand, through our dedicated expertise and knowledge passed down from one generation to another. The group employs over 200 people and has operating plants in Roscrea and Naas. This Role would be primarily based in Naas.

Here at Ashbourne Meat Processors, we are supplying premium chilled and frozen beef products to leading retailers, manufacturers and distributors throughout Europe, Russia, Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

With growing international beef markets and new market coming on stream Ashbourne Meats has a fantastic opening for a Sales and Marketing Manager to help us develop these opportunities. The person must have a background in Agri Sales and ambitious for career development. The person must have knowledge of the beef industry, beef cuts and Offals.

Key Duties and responsibilities include

- Beef Sales with Key International Clients
- Customer Account Management
- Monitoring of Market Movements
- New Market Developments
- Maximising Product Return
- Logistics Planning
- Attend Trade Fairs and travel to customers

For more information on the company please see www.ashmeats.ie or for more information about the role please e-mail your CV to Donal Houlihan donalh@ashmeats.ie or phone him +353 87 6341599